Write three sentences on the board about your weekend and read them out. Two should be true and one should be false. Ask the children to guess which sentence is false by giving a negative sentence: e.g. You didn't go to the cinema! When they have guessed correctly, ask the children to repeat the negative sentence together.

The children continue the game in pairs. Each child writes three sentences about their weekend, and their partner has to guess which one is false. Then they change partners. Repeat two or three times.

Last week it was Sports Day at our school. There were a lot of different sports and a lot of people came to watch. Some boys and girls ran in a race. Tilly finished first! There was a bike race too. They went very fast – it was great! I played tennis with three of my friends. We didn't win the game, but it was fun! After the sports we had ice cream (I had chocolate – my favourite!) and then I went home with my mother and father. We all had a fantastic day!
