Read and number the sections a–c in order.

DAILY LIFE IN ANCIENT ROME

- a After school, children played with their pets, toys and friends. Adults went to the baths before or after the Forum. Children didn't visit the baths and slaves weren't allowed in the baths with rich people, except as attendants. There were cheap public baths everywhere in Rome. After dinner, adults sometimes went to the theatre.

Rich Romans lived a very good life. Roman slaves and people without a lot of money had to work all the time and had very difficult lives.

- b In Ancient Rome, the day began with breakfast. What people ate for breakfast depended on their social status. Slaves had to wake up early to prepare breakfast for their masters and often only had some water for breakfast or a bit of bread. Rich families enjoyed bread, honey, fruit, cheese and olives for breakfast. They usually drank water. Emperors had big breakfasts which included meat and fish. They sometimes had wine with their breakfast too!

- c After breakfast, children went to school and many adults went to the Forum to go shopping and do their banking. The Forum was a market square and commercial area. It was also used for festivals, celebrations and ceremonies.

In early Roman times, children took classes at home. The father acted as a teacher and taught his son Roman law, history, customs and physical training. Most girls learned to spin or sew with their mothers. Later, boys went to school, but girls usually stayed at home. The school day began at sunrise and there were classes in the morning and the afternoon.

6 Project

Work in pairs. You're going to act out an interview with a Roman gladiator. First, imagine you are a gladiator and prepare the answers to these questions:

- Where do you live?
- How did you become a gladiator?
- Do you sometimes fight animals? Which ones?
- What weapon do you use?
- What's the worst thing about being a gladiator?
- What do you do to relax?
