A Letter to the Editor

July 15

Dear Editor:

1 Cell phones are amazing. You can get a lot of information from cell phones. You can talk to anyone in the world right now. You don't even need to be at home. You can make calls from anywhere. You can send people messages or play games. But sometimes it's better to put your phone away.

Many people use their cell phones in movie theaters. This is not polite. Last week, when I was at the movie theater, a woman used her cell phone in the middle of the movie.

An older man in the theater was angry. He saw the light from the phone and heard the woman talking. He yelled at the woman to put her phone away. The woman said, "Don't be silly. It's just a quick phone call."

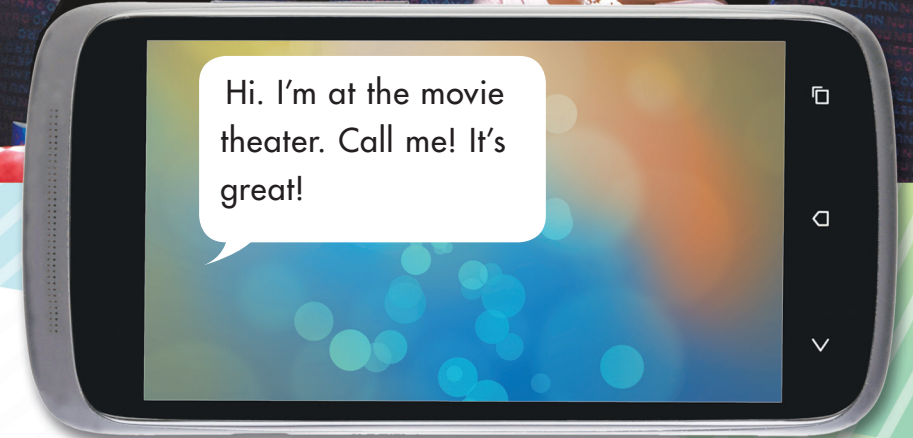

2 Then the older man said, "I'm not silly. You're rude. Put your phone away or leave the movie theater."

It wasn't polite for the older man to yell in the movie theater. But was the woman rude to use her cell phone? There was time before the movie to make a call. There was time after the movie, too. It's more polite to wait.

You can talk to anyone, anywhere, at any time. But, it's important to be polite when you use your phone.

Sincerely,

Polite Paul

2 Circle how Paul feels about using cell phones in the movie theater.

- a. Cell phones are good. You can talk to anyone.
- b. Cell phones are bad. People send texts at the movies.
- c. Cell phones are good, but people need to think about where and when to use them.
