- 3. 5 Steps to Teacher Development
- 4. Tips on finding the right resources

There is no lack of teacher training resources, so...

- What area(s) do I need to work on?
- How can I develop my teaching without a prescribed structure to work through?
- How do I find the best training for me?

The Good News...

You decide what training you take part in

The structure you use will best reflect the course of training you need

You decide who will provide that training

6 Steps to Teacher Development

LEARNING

- Student testimonials/assessment
- Formalised feedback
- Your fellow teachers (formal and informal)
- Yourself (formal and informal)
- Your manager

6 Steps to Teacher Development

ADVANCING
LEARNING

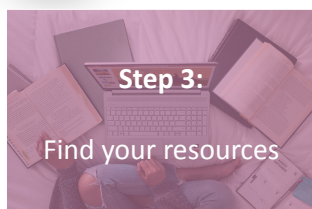

- Include pedagogical area(s) you want to work on (less is always more!) & split it into several components
- Write a set of specific goals (By [date], I will be able to...)
- Find around 1, 2 or 3 'slots' during your week for input and output of learning
- Note how and when you will reflect and measure your progress
- Write the plan down (spreadsheet?)
